JUDGE BOLEN QUILTS ROBERTSON CASE

DEATH ANSWERS FINAL CALL FOR JOHN WANAMAKER

Career of World Famous Merchant Ended With Sudden Death.

SUCCUMBS AT 8 A. M.

Aged Patriarch Active in Business World Until Fatal Illness.

(By the Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—John Wanamaker died at his home here at 8 a. m.
The world famous merchant and former postmaster general passed away at his town house, 2032 Walnut street. He had been confined there since early in November with a heavy cold, contracted at his country estate "Lydenhurst" at Jenkintown, near here. He was 94 years old.
Mr. Wanamaker was active in business to his death. He spent much of last winter in Florida, but was in this city all summer hard at work, with the exception of occasional excursions to the seashore. He was always an early riser and was usually out of bed in the morning before his stores were opened.
Mr. Wanamaker is survived by his son, Rodman, New York and two daughters, Mary B., wife of Farley Warburton and Elizabeth, wife of Norman MacLeod, both of Philadelphia.
Mr. Wanamaker lapsed into unconsciousness at midnight and was in a grave condition continuously until his death. At 5 o'clock this morning he was seized with a violent coughing spell which resulted in extreme heart weakening. Members of the family were summoned to the bedside and all but Rodman, who was called from New York, were with the aged merchant when he died.
John Wanamaker led in the creation of the department store as an institution in American life. At the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861 when he began business for himself in a humble way in Philadelphia, retail merchandizing in this country was in a disorganized state, and, in the opinion of the far-sighted young merchant, it was suffering a rapid decline through practices that were then general. Aside from his ambition to make money, "my paramount purpose," said Mr. Wanamaker, "was to help save the mercantile profession from lowering its flag before other professions and occupations." There were in those days no fixed selling price for goods. Business then demanded a thirteen-hour day from all its employees. Customers spent hours price haggling with salesmen. Mr. Wanamaker was impressed with this waste of time and to eliminate it he became a pioneer in fixing a selling price for goods. It was one of the beginnings of many mercantile reforms which today are so generally followed that the present generation can scarcely find anywhere a trace of the old practices.
Mr. Wanamaker was 24 years old when he entered upon his career, in partnership with his brother-in-law, Nathan Brown, on a joint capital of $3,500, in a clothing business at Philadelphia. He had been born in that city, July 11, 1838. His father and his father's father had been brick-makers, and John Wanamaker's first work was "turning brick." He was the oldest of seven children and early in his boyhood he was obliged to give up schooling and earn his own way. His first wages were $1.25 a week as an errand boy in a Philadelphia book store, and then, as a young man he was employed for a time at Tower Hall, a famous old Philadelphia clothing house, where his personal ability and business ability were developed for his venture in business for himself. The Brown and Wanamaker store began business with a first day's sales account of $24, and ended its first year with a record of $24,000 in business. Mr. Wanamaker and his brother in law were during their first few months of business, unable to afford a horse and wagon for delivery, and Mr. Wanamaker himself pushed a two-wheel cart to deliver his goods. His partner's health failing, most of the details of the business devolved upon Mr. Wanamaker.
Starts Wanamaker System
Aside from establishing his one price policy and making a shorter business day, Mr. Wanamaker established in the new store two systems, one of sales and the other of organization. He learned it was

'Mornin' Judge

(By the Associated Press)
NICKERSON, Kan., Dec. 12.—Declaring she was elected in the recent election by club women who wrote her name on the ballot, Miss Clara Arnold, 19 year old girl, took offense yesterday when asked to qualify following the resignation of Judge Joslyn, Justice of the peace.
"It's a joke," she said. "I don't want to be called Judge Arnold."
Informed she must qualify or be subject to prosecution she said, "I'll qualify, but I don't want the job."
Friends declare Miss Arnold is the youngest, prettiest not the only woman police judge in Kansas.

RUSSELL UPHELD IN COURT ACTION

Jury Finds for Defendant After Hearing Final Argument in Case.

(By the Associated Press)
OXFORD, Miss., Dec. 12.—"We, the jury, find for the defendant." This verdict brought to a close in federal district court here yesterday the $100,000 damage suit filed by Miss Francis Birkhead, stenographer, against Lee M. Russell, governor of Mississippi.
Miss Birkhead had asked for $50,000 damages on each of two counts, one charging seduction and the other impairment of health as the result of an operation which she declared was urged by the governor.
The verdict came just 28 minutes after the conclusion of arguments which lasted four hours and a charge given the jury by Judge E. R. Holmes.
Neither of the principals were in from 46 to 76 years, was reported, court when the finding of the jury, composed of men ranging in age from 34 to 74, was announced. Thirty-four witnesses were examined during the seven days of the trial of the case.
C. M. McNeil, chief counsel for Miss Birkhead, would make no statement as to further action, but indicated an appeal would be taken.

American Consul to Small Island Shot by Assassin

(By the Associated Press)
VALETTA MALTA, Dec. 12.—Mason Mitchell of New York, American consul on the island of Malta, was shot and wounded today at Barracca. His assailant escaped but pursuit was immediately taken up. Mr. Mitchell was taken to a physician for treatment.
"I know nobody who could have done this," he explained, as assistance came to him.
The consul is described as being very popular here.
Mr. Mitchell was slightly wounded, the bullet imbedding itself in his coat. He was taken to his home this afternoon where he was confined to his bed but he expected that he would be about in a day or two.
The shooting is generally attributed to a madman.

STREETMAN NOW QUIET AFTER MOB DISPERSES

(By the Associated Press)
STREETMAN, Tex., Dec. 12.—Streetman is quiet this morning after a day of wild excitement yesterday. An attack on a young white woman, the lynching of a negro man and burning of the only negro hotel in Streetman were the events that caused the excitement with the burning of the hotel taking but a minor part in the day's happenings.
George Gay, negro, 24, was shot to death by a mob after he had been accused of an attack on the white woman earlier in the day. He was taken from the sheriff's party which was trying to get him to safety. Chained to a tree, his body was riddled with bullets. Over three hundred shots took effect in his body while it was chained to the tree.
The young woman recovered rapidly from the shock of the attack. She was uninjured except for a few scratches received in the fight with her assailant.

BRITAIN URGING AMERICA'S HELP IN ALLIES' ROW

Believe Britishers Will Ask America to Take Part in Parley.

AMERICA IS SILENT

On Information Imparted as to the Attitude of U. S. Leaders.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 12.—The belief that Great Britain intends to sound out the American government's willingness to take some such action in reference to the allied debts to the possible cancellation of the French debt is asserted by the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic expert.
The French delegation to the adjourned premiers' conference was reported last night as holding that the British might approach the United States before the January 2 meeting of the premiers to ascertain whether America would be willing to consider either cancellation of the French debt or participation in a conference for consideration of such a step.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—It was said at the white house today that while all official comment would be withheld for the present, it could not be denied that the Washington government regarded the reparations difficulties brought to a head by the premiers' council in London as one of the most acute problems now vexing Europe.
There was no attempt to disguise the concern of the United States in the apparent lack of prospects of an adjustment of allied views as to Germany. That concern it was indicated, extended to other European questions as well in all of these matters it was said at the white house, and it was admitted that the Washington government has not been "inactive."
No hint was given, however, as to the nature of the American action towards the solution of the European problems.

WALTON RESENTS ACTION OF GOVERNMENT GROUPS

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 12.—A statement declaring that Governor-elect J. C. Walton "resented very much the deliberate attempts on the part of some of his enemies to split the administration wide open before he takes the oath of office," was issued here today by Aldrich N. Blake, his secretary. The statement was made in reply to a declaration last night by W. F. Disney, republican from Muskogee county that "a select group of men with government purposes, which as reported, are not merely wildly extravagant but which strike at the very fundamentals of sound government and sound business and are attempting to secure control of the government."
Blake declared that governor-elect "has repeatedly authorized the statement that while he will consult with labor and farm organizations of the state, chambers of commerce, and other as governor, he will make his own decisions and will not permit any click or group to occupy the chair for him."

Ada Rejoices--- Streets to Get Bath

The long expected street flusher has arrived at last, according to an announcement today by Walter S. Smith, commissioner of public works and property, who recommended that the flusher be purchased.
This is the first time since the city started its first paving method of cleaning them has been adopted. Mr. Smith said that larger cities using the flusher had found them to be satisfactory, from the immediate standpoint of cleaning the

False Trail in Clara's Chase

(By the Associated Press)
CASPER, Wyoming, Dec. 12.—Belief that Casper police had succeeded in apprehending Clara Phillips, convicted slayer of Mrs. Alberta Meadows, who escaped from the Los Angeles county jail on December 6, is thought to have been exploded this morning when a suspect arrested last night declared she was Beatrice Craig of Kirby, Wyoming.
The woman said she had been living in Casper for about three weeks. Police authorities have not definitely accepted her explanation and are continuing their investigation.

FATE OF FLIERS STILL UNKNOWN

Additional Planes Sent to Front of Search for Missing Men.

(By the Associated Press)
EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 12.—The plane carrying Francis Marshall and Lieut. C. L. Webber, missing army aviators, was last seen late Thursday afternoon between Town Butte and Santa Roto ranch, Ariz., flying in an easterly direction with the motor missing badly, according to a wire received at headquarters of the first cavalry division from Col. E. E. Wynans, tenth cavalry, who is co-ordinating with the work of the flying squadron at Ft. Bliss and Kelly Field in the search.
While the report seemingly indicates that the missing men did not loose their bearings and cross into Mexican territory, it also sidetracks hopes of airmen here who have expressed hope that the two men would be found alive.

NOGAZLES, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Army officers in charge of the search for Col. Francis Marshall and Lieut. Charles L. Webber in this section said today they were questioning a Mexican who is reported to have seen two airmen walking south west of Nogazles Saturday.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—Seven army airplanes under command of Major George H. Breet, chief of the air service of the 9th corps area, left here today for Nogazles, Ariz., to participate in the search for Col. Francis Marshall and Lieut. C. L. Webber, missing army airmen. The airplanes took off in a rain storm.

ARDMORE LAWYER WANTS NATIONAL GUARD AT MADILL

Sheriff Says Troops Not Needed in Marshall County.

GUARDS GO TO MADILL

Sheriff Asserts no Charges Had Been Filed Against Anyone After Probe.

(By the Associated Press)
ARDMORE, Dec. 12.—Citizens of Madill protest the presence of troops in their midst, in a telegram to Governor J. B. A. Robertson this afternoon, according to information received here. The telegram was signed by Isaac L. Lewis, county judge and twenty other representative citizens of the city.

ARDMORE, Dec. 12.—State troops at Ardmore are unnecessary, according to C. A. Coakley, Ardmore attorney who returned from Madill last night.
"Sheriff John Glenn thinks so little of the case that he did not take the trouble to appoint more deputies to serve during the trial of a number of auto thieves cases," he added. Coakley returned to Madill this morning. He has been retained by several defendants on car theft cases and has been at Madill frequently for the past two weeks.

In a statement given out last night by Sheriff Glenn, the action by the assistant attorney general was denied, and he said that no charges had been made against any one connected with the investigation of car theft cases there by state agents. He stated also that if threats had been made he had not been informed.
"When the state agents were ordered here several weeks ago, I offered my assistance," the sheriff stated. "I have assigned men to work with them and have personally assisted in rounding up a number of cases. It seems strange that the state agents would be threatened and nothing would be said to me about it."

OPTIMISM EXPRESSED AT STATE BANKERS MEET

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 12.—Predicting a year of gain in business generally and great advance in Oklahoma banking, Mike Donally, commissioner of finance and acting mayor of Oklahoma City, today opened the annual convention of the state bankers association of Oklahoma with an address of welcome. More than three hundred persons representing member banks all over the state were in attendance.
W. R. Samuels, secretary, in his report to the convention shortly before noon expressed confidence that flaws in the state guaranty fund can be eliminated. The guaranty law is expected to be the chief matter for consideration by the convention. Recommendation for legislation to amend certain parts of the law is expected.
The executive committee of the association was to proceed today with the rest of the meeting last night with Secretary Samuels. Nine members of the organization also were to be selected by the executive committee today from which the governor will select three members of the new state banking board.

TRIAL OF SMITH STARTS AT YUMA

Agents of Four States at Beginning of Trial of "Boy Banker."

(By the Associated Press)
YUMA, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Officials of the federal government and of four states were here today for the opening of the trial of Alva E. Smith, once known as the "boy banker" and now charged with having wrecked the Parker Valley Bank of Parker, Ariz., last summer and having diverted $40,000 of its assets to his own use.
Smith faces five different counts but was to go to trial on one charging embezzlement of $6,000.
Agents of the federal department of justice and officials of Oklahoma, Texas and California as well as those of Arizona were here.

Smith was also wanted by Oklahoma authorities for alleged misappropriation of funds in the State Bank of Clarita, which closed its doors several months ago. He was connected with the bank at the time of its failure, and was charged with transferring money illegally to the Parker Bank from the Clarita institution.

He was formerly well known in banking circles of Oklahoma City and his first trouble in the financial world started there when he was ousted because of alleged misconduct in his banking operations.

Legal Question to Be Fought Out in Oil Company Suit

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Okla., Dec. 12.—Counsel for the Gypsy Oil company have announced they expect to file a suit to determine whether an attaché of an Oklahoma court can serve as legal guardian for an incompetent. The legal question, it is said, will involve in its settlement many oil companies and properties in the state.
The question has arisen through the auction sale of an oil lease on eighty acres of land in the Bristow oil field owned by Pickett Reuthe, S. M. Rutherford Jr., Reuthe's guardian, is an employee of the county court in which his appointment was made. The Gypsy company which was awarded the lease at a bid of $80,000, alleges that Rutherford's appointment is void because of his connection with the court. Pending the outcome of the intended suit it has refused to pay the purchase price.

BOLEN FINISHES HIS ACTIVITY IN ROBERTSON CASE

Disqualification Papers Filed Today; Makes No Comment.

LAST STEP TAKEN

Special Term of District Court to Be Convened January 15.

District Judge J. W. Bolen, of Ada, today filed his disqualification in the case of the State vs. J. B. A. Robertson charged with accepting a bribe in connection with the failure of the Bank of Commerce at Okmulgee.

Bolen made no statement on the bare statement of his disqualification, merely stating that his action in disqualifying was the result of his decision several weeks ago when he learned that Robertson was being fought by republican Ku Klux interest. This fact, he states, immediately lined him up on Walton's side.

Bolen's filing of disqualification reads: "Case of State vs. J. B. A. Robertson, charged with accepting a bribe: I hereby certify my disqualification in this case on account of bias."
(Signed)
J. W. Bolen.

Special Session January 15
Bolen stated that he would defer calling a special as he had intended. Bolen stated that he took this action because of the many protests he had received against holding court at that early date because of the Walton inaugural barbecue to be held in Oklahoma City January 8. His deference in the action, he said, was extended in order that legal attaches and attorneys here might attend the celebration uninterrupted.
Bolen further states that the remainder of the month of January would be given over to the hearing of civil cases and that no criminal cases would be docketed before February 1.

MERCURY PLUNGES TO SEASON'S LOWEST MARK

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 12.—Temperatures in Oklahoma scurried downward last night before the icy gale which came roaring across the state from the northwest and today every section of the state was shivering in below freezing atmosphere. It was the coldest morning of the winter, according to reports to the United States weather bureau here.

The open stretch of the panhandle was the coldest in the state, reports indicating the mercury there was hovering between 6 and 10 degrees above zero. The temperature here at 7 o'clock this morning was 18 above and at Muskogee it was 21.

Fair weather tonight and tomorrow was forecast with slightly lower temperatures in eastern part of the state.
The expected temperatures tonight are 8 to 12 degrees in the northern half of the state and 14 to 18 in the southern. Some moderation may set in tomorrow, it was said, but no material break in the cold wave is expected until Thursday or Friday.

STATEMENT OF BOGGOUS TAKEN IN MURDER CASE

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Dec. 12.—What is purported to be a statement of Tom Boggous as he lay fatally wounded on the porch of a theatre at Dewar on the night of October 20, in which he was alleged to have said that Homer Pennequin knocked him down with a pistol and George Clark shot him, testified by Constable Oscar Davis, was the outstanding development in the preliminary hearing of Pennequin and George Frew, charges with murder in connection with the death of Boggous.

There was a grand and glorious sweet potato fight at the Boy Scout Lodge last night. They say Lee Couch and Jack Dixon will wear sweet potato noses for some time to come. Scout masters Harry Deering and Tom Fullerton say that the boys had a great time but that they didn't sleep sound enough to scare up a healthy snore. Murrell Matthews and his committee succeeded in raising the needed budget it will be soon possible to sleep out there on an army cot and some kind of a mattress.

Mayo McKeown and troop three will go to the Lodge tonight. We are wondering whether Ralph Morrow and Weck McClure are prepared to hike to the Arbuckle mountains and back before morning. Well boys be sure and get back in time for Sunday school. Scouting does not wish to interfere with any church or school work for they are the best helpers we have to develop scouts into good men.

Harry Hamilton of troop nine is sick. Prof. D. T. Bradshaw took his scouts out however for a hike to the lake behind Jack Kitchell's home.

Troop 10 sprung a surprise on Scoutmaster Widney last night and took him out on a hike to Sandy.

Troops 3, 4 and 5 are getting ready to capture some of the prizes in the coming bicycle races. Saturday, Nov. 11, we will hold the annual bicycle races. The Ada Filling station has offered two first prizes. The first prize to the scout winning the four mile race under 100 pounds will be a new bicycle tire worth $3.00. Second prize will be given by Rollow Hardware Co., and will be a fine Keen Kutter axe.

The first prize for the scout winning first place in the four mile race over 100 pounds is a $3.00 tire offered by the Ada Filling station. The second prize will be a fine scout knife offered by the Coffman, Bobbitt and Sparks Hardware Co.

Third and fourth prizes will be announced a little later. If you have a wheel you had better get it in good shape for this race from Homer school house into town.

Scout Donavan Skirvin at Galveston did a fine, chivalrous act recently which goes to show that it certainly pays to give a scout some scout training. Donavan was in a little suburban store operated by an old Italian lady. A drunken man came into the place and commenced to use abusive language to her. Donavan told him that he was a scout and that if he didn't get out of the place and quit talking that way that he would call the police at once. The man "beat it."

We have just found out the name of the other Pontotoc county scout who saved a life at Vanoss this summer. His name is Donnie Shaw. We had quite a long visit with him on the train recently but he never said a word about saving that boy's life.

We hope that the good people of Ada who have supported the scout movement in Ada for the last two years will remember all the big and good things that the scouts have done. How about that pageant with four hundred boys acting out Oklahoma's history for two hours before a thousand people? Surely we all haven't forgotten that big parade connected with the pageant. And then the mock initiation of President Harding on the streets and the celebration of Constitutional day.

Ada scouts have rode thousands of good turns. Think of the many big camping trips to the Arbuckles and to Grege's crossing near Tishomingo. Ada had more boys out camping last summer than Oklahoma City. When you consider the number of people in the two places. Ada took 155 boys out camping for a summer outing while Oklahoma City took out only 179. She had more out than Okmulgee and Henryetta combined. Norman, Okla., claims right to the last place.

Music for the Sunday school of the First Methodist church will be furnished by the girls chorus of the high school Sunday morning, according to an announcement today. Two selections, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," and "In the Time of Roses," will be sung.

Elect Superintendent

The Fourth Quarterly conference of the Methodist church convened Monday night of this week and elected a number of departmental superintendents as well as a general superintendent. R. S. Newcomb was re-elected superintendent on a motion by the pastor. Others elected were:

Beginners department, Mrs. H. F. Felix; primary department, Mrs. R. E. Haynes; Junior department, Mrs. J. M. Keltner; intermediate department, Mrs. Ina Mackin; senior department, Mrs. Wilbur Lee. Will Rollow was re-elected secretary-treasure and Miss Dollie Gay was re-elected his assistant.

Missionary Society

Miss Bessie Brand, appointed to rural work in the North Mississippi Conference, is making an excellent record in organizing rural societies in the churches, and in a survey of rural conditions. Miss Brand is endeavoring to develop properly kept and properly equipped rest rooms in the market centers for the use of the former's wives. She is arousing interest in the recreational life of young people in rural churches. In writing of her reception among country folk she says: "I have found warmth, cooperation, and Christian fellowship in each of the places I visited, and take this opportunity of thanking each one for the kindness shown a stranger in a strange land."

The missionary society of the First Methodist church will meet in regular business session Monday, November 6, at three p. m. at the church building.

The society will observe their week of prayer next Thursday, November 9, at 2:30 p. m. at the church with Mrs. W. W. Meaders, Supt. of Publicity.

"Vote for the Man"

Six Reasons Why You Should Vote for

JOHN FIELDS FOR GOVERNOR Next Tuesday

1. He has devoted twenty-six years of his life to making better living conditions on the farms of Oklahoma.

2. He is aligned with no clan, click, league, church or other organizations which can tie his hands when elected.

3. He has promised to clean up the banking department, attempt to give back the depositors the money lost in failed state banks, and give an honest and industrious administration of the banking laws.

4. He is honest, conscientious, a good friend, a true citizen, who makes no idle boasts or hollow promises to get votes.

5. He has promised to be the governor of all the people, to appoint coalition boards, not to disturb the schools and to give to every child a full term's schooling each year. Free text books and better teachers and longer terms are his aims.

6. John Fields is one of our kind of folks, his heart always beating for the farmer and small business man who is trying to get ahead in this great new state. He is not a political adventurer, seeking power in order that he may devour others.

VOTE FOR JOHN FIELDS

and you may rest assured that you are voting to give your children better opportunities and not to fasten upon the state a big debt and let unscrupulous politicians play with your money. You have all to gain and nothing to lose if you vote for JOHN FIELDS.

Are all the heroines found in the story books and in the movies? The incident related gives an emphatic answer in the negative. The little woman of this story may not win a place in history with Helen of Troy, Cleopatra, Joan of Arc, or Florence Nightingale, but, nevertheless, we hold that she is a real heroine.

"THE LAST TRAIL" IS A PRONOUNCED WINNER

William Fox, in producing another Zane Grey story on the screen, has produced another success. "The Last Trail," which opened at the American theatre last night, is a pronounced winner. It carries an all-star cast, headed by Maurice Flynn and Eva Novak, and was directed by Emmett J. Flynn—who, although a young man, has advanced within twelve months to the very front

Operetta to be Presented
By Willard School

Operetta "The Trial of John and Jane," will be given by the Willard school at the Normal auditorium to-night. The admission will be 10 and 20 cents. Everyone is invited to come.

President Linscheid is Host to School Clubs

President Linscheid entertained the football team of the college, the band, and the Frogs, the pep organization, with a banquet at the Harris hotel last night. The party gathered at seven o'clock.

The ladies present were Mesdames Linscheid, Hugh Norris, M. Z. Thompson, R. R. Robinson and A. L. Fentem. Other guests were Sam Scheinberg, Walter Wray and Ben Rutledge. Substantial courses were served, followed by speeches by some of those present.

Mr. Linscheid as toastmaster was in charge of the program, which opened with four selections by the band. Wilborn Kapps spoke on "Making the All-State" and was followed by Leonard Smith with a discussion of "Our Friends, the Enemy." A quartet composed of Lowell Turner, Charles Cunningham, Russell Bond and Earl Fentem rendered several numbers which were enjoyed by the party.

The following speeches included Walter Wray on "Optimism and Fight in Football"; Ben Rutledge on "Foul Play"; Earl Fentem on "Football and Jazz"; "Frogs" by Mike Cassidy; "Financing the Game" by Hugh Norris; "The Season in Retrospect," by Coach Thompson; and Awarding the Model Sweater" by Sam Scheinberg.

The general opinion seemed to be that with most of the team back for next year that Ada would be second to none in the race for state honors. The members of the football team balloted on the captain for next year and chose Charles Cunningham. They then selected the recipient for the Honor sweater given each year by the Model and decided that Joe Colbert should have that honor. Gilbert Montgomery, this year's captain, made a speech on the election of the new captain and turned over to him the football. Cunningham and Colbert were called upon for speeches, after which the band played a selection and the banquet was over. Mr. Linscheid's kindness was greatly appreciated by those present.

rank among wielders of the megaphone.

Also in the company is Rosemary Theby, the statuesque, who has been seen as the wicked but fascinating Queen Morgan le Fay in the superb Fox production of Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee." "The Last Trail" is sufficiently exciting in incident to clinch the interest of the most calloused of picture goers. It is stamped with the originality that marks all Zane Grey's work, and it has been transferred to the screen with this element unweakened, and with scenic effects that delight the eye and stir the imagination. It is a picture that should not be missed.

Christmas Bazaar Held by Ladies of Episcopal Church

A Christmas Bazaar given under the auspices of the ladies of the St. Luke's Episcopal church of this city, was held in the building formerly occupied by the Palm Garden beginning at three o'clock this afternoon.

Candies in attractive boxes, hot drinks and sandwiches, fruits and dainty gifts were offered for sale. Elaborate plans for the event had been made and those in charge stated shortly after the doors were opened to customers that success was expected with the affair.

The proceeds will be used by the ladies of the church in furthering church affairs. It is the first church bazaar of the Christmas season. The doors were to be open only for the afternoon of Tuesday, according to announcements.

Total first day $40
With forty dollars contributed to the Santa Claus Club empty stocking fund the first day, prospects for a happy Christmas for Adas' poor kiddies was somewhat brighter, Christmas joy will be found in every home in the city if the spirit manifested the first day is continued, Mrs. Orville Sneed, secretary of the local charities organizations and who will have charge of the empty stocking fund, said today.

"It is very gratifying," she said, "to see how quickly and generously the people of Ada are responding to the call. I am sure that the stocking fund this year will be as successful as any previous time. I am glad to say the people of Ada are as good and generous as those of larger cities."

A local woman also contributed to the cause by giving Mrs. Sneed sixty beautiful little dolls. Mrs. Sneed declared the dolls to be very unique and just the thing for many, many youngsters that she knew in the city. "They will be tickled as can be to get them," she said.

Mrs. Sneed said today that business houses wishing to extend invitations to have the purpose of raising additional funds for the Santa Claus Club should phone her immediately as the stockings will be placed today and tomorrow.

"If you want to join our club," she said, "phone us and we will give you one of the stockings and signs. If you want to join our club by contributions, bring them or mail them to us."

CITY CAGERS TO BATTLE TONIGHT

Double-Header to Start the Teams off in City Basketball League.

City league basketball teams were to appear for the first time tonight when the double-header heralded as the official opening of the league season are played in the national guard armory on North Broadway.

Guardmen and Ada High school were scheduled for the opening contest. Managers of the teams today did not announce their tentative line ups but it was expected that Potts, Rayburn and Mulloy would be included on the high school line-up and Coleman, Waner, McKee and Dorsey would be included on the guardmen lineup.

Ada News and College Cubs were to play the second game. Coach Thompson announces that his Cubs are showing up good in the preliminary work and that he expects them to walk off with tonight's contest. He will have Keltner, Williams, Miller, White, Strohm and a large number of others to play in the game.

Ada News men, who have been working out regularly during the past few weeks are Whitwell, Johns, Bentley, Floyd and several other good players. Both games are expected to be rough as none of the teams have played enough ball this season to work off roughness.

History Studied in Unique Form; Make Investigation

(By the Associated Press)
APPLETON, Wis., Dec. 12.—History is being taught in a unique and practical manner at Lawrence College here. Dr. J. B. MacHarg's class in "Sources" has been divided into three sections for the purpose of studying the development of the Fox River Valley in Wisconsin.

One section is at work on the treatise of Reuben G. Thwaite, "Jesuit Selections." The second group is delving into local history. By means of newspaper clippings and interviews with old settlers they are obtaining valuable information on the college and the community which will be filed for future use. The third group is collecting pictures which have a bearing on the history of the valley. Arrangements have been made to have these pictures copied and made postcard size so that they may be available for teachers to use in the class room.

HAPPY AND CONTENTED FEET SECRET OF GOOD DANCING, SAYS BALLET STAR

into the hearts of their admirers to remember this.

"It is in only a few ballets that a dancer wears shoes and stockings. But in the 'Carmen,' 'Jewels of the Madonna,' 'Snow Maiden,' and a few other grand opera ballets, the dancers are costumed and then wear long stockings and shoes.

"Everyone knows how vitally necessary it is to have shoes fit properly, but only those who give the most thoughtful care to their feet consider the tremendous importance of comfortable, well-fitted stockings. If a stocking does not wrinkle around the ankle and calf of the leg that usually is considered sufficient and a seam down the back of the leg and across the sole of the foot has been considered necessary to insure this fit.

"That seam along the sole of the foot is not conducive to a dancer's comfort nor does it insure forgotten feet. To a tired foot the smoothest of seams may become a jagged ridge of rocks.

"The seamless stocking is the thing for all manner of dancing. A fashioned, seamless stocking, fitted in the knitting, widening at the calf, cuddling in with narrowed stitches at the ankle and shaped in the weaving to the foot is the ideal stocking. It makes for a happy, contented foot that can take care of itself without any help from headquarters and leaves the brain of the dancer free to concern itself exclusively with the art and interpretation of the dance."

Hughes Strength Above Party Power Question in Australian Political Pot

(By the Associated Press)

MELBOURNE, Dec. 12.—Is William Morris Hughes another of the famous "war Prime Ministers" and, like former Premier Lloyd George, a coalitionist and a man without a real party behind him? This is the question that is at present agitating all of Australia. The general election of December 16 being less than a week off. One of the most popular and shrewdest of the Commonwealth's Prime Ministers, Mr. Hughes faces the hardest battle of his career, following six years tenure of the highest office in the land.

Mr. Hughes' political life has been spectacular and daring, especially during the war years when he led the best elements of the country in a stubborn struggle to assure Australia's complete cooperation in the fight overseas. Prior to the election of 1916 Mr. Hughes was leader of the Labor Party, probably the strongest organization in the Commonwealth. The question of conscription disrupted the Labor Party and left it leaderless. Mr. Hughes had elected to stand out for compulsory service. He left the party with a handful of faithful followers and was welcomed by the Liberals, the other great National Party. Thus was formed the Nationalists Party, whose major platform was full cooperation in waging the war. For three years Mr. Hughes held the reins of power by reason of this coalition.

In the election of 1919, 38 Nationalists were elected to the House of Representatives of Australia, 24 Laborists and 13 members of the Country Party. This was a new party that had come forth in the two years following the war. It was the party of the agriculturalists, favoring low tariff, retrenchment in national expenditures and conservation in government. While on the face of the 1919 returns Mr. Hughes had a bare majority of one, his actual working majority was much greater, for the Nationalists and the Country Party had some few things in common, while the Laborites and Country Party were antipathetic in every principle. Labor stands for high tariff, an eight hour day for the farm laborer and also a minimum wage, for various forms of state socialism, and other radical measures. The Country Party flourished in opposing such measures. For a long time Mr. Hughes succeeded in obtaining the support of the Country Party in every division in Parliament, and thus his position was secure.

But toward the end of his second term of three years as Prime Minister, Mr. Hughes began to lose his support of both the Country Party and that portion of the Nationalists Party which had been the old Liberal Party. And it is this fact which makes his success at the polls next week problematical. A. Watt, leader of the old Liberal Party and a member of Mr. Hughes' coalition cabinet, withdrew his support from the Prime Minister following a spectacular quarrel in which Mr. Watt charged that he had been sent to London on an important official mission only to find his powers negated by direct action from Melbourne. Mr. Watt immediately began to undermine Mr. Hughes' position in the Nationalists Party, and now claims that the Liberal portion of the party will draw out at the next election and will leave Mr. Hughes with the remnants of the followers—it is said they number only ten—that left the Labor Party to coalesce with the Liberals.

The quarrel between the Prime Minister and the Country Party began over the question of the government's financial policy. In a speech, typical of its force and frankness, Mr. Hughes started a controversy that ended with an attempt to redistribute the seats in the House of Representatives so as to wipe out two rural constituencies where the Country Party had polled their largest majorities. Dr. E. A. Page, leader of the Country Party, opposed the measure and succeeded in blocking the Prime Minister by gaining the support of Matthew Charlton, leader of the Labor Party and Mr. Watt. Dr. Page then openly vowed vengeance against Mr. Hughes and declared that the Ministry must be retired.

Thus the situation stands, with the fight centered on the election of the House of Representatives. The contest in the Senate is not considered important, for only 18 of the 36 seats are filled at each triennial election, and at present the Senate is almost completely Nationalist, and strongly for Mr. Hughes.

Labor is not in a strong position. It is not expected to increase its strength in the House of Representatives, though even if it should Mr. Hughes could look for little support from that party, for it has never forgotten his break-away in 1916. In two states—New South Wales, where a recent ministry was Labor, and in Queensland, where the present ministry is Labor, the party has not given substantial evidence of success. Radical tendencies in the organization have alienated substantial portions of the electorate, and the campaign at present is centered in the triangular fight between Mr. Watt, Mr. Page and Mr. Hughes—the old Liberals and the Country Party being hopeful of depriving the Prime Minister of all support but that of the faithful few who have followed him from the Labor Party in 1916.

STAR WEARS "CHEATERS" IN NEW PRODUCTION

In her newest First National attraction, "Heroes and Husbands," which opens at the McSwain theatre tomorrow, Katherine MacDonald, the noted screen beauty, has the role of a successful novelist, and as she believes in the virtues of her profession, part of the story finds the star hiding her beauty behind a pair of horn shell glasses.

"Heroes and Husbands" comes with the managerial assurance that it introduces Miss MacDonald and a supporting organization of recognized screen players in the most delightful comedy this popular star has ever made, a comedy that is overshadowed for a brief while, toward the end, by a flash of poignant tragedy.

Chet Withey directed "Heroes and Husbands" and in all of his extensive and varied directorial career has never accomplished anything quite so good. The story is by Charles O'Leary, who also fashioned Miss MacDonald's great screen triumph, "The Infield."

POSTAL WASTES NOW UNDER FIRE

Urge Patrons of Mails to Prevent Daily Waste in Faulty Mails.

The importance of due care and the disastrous results of carelessness are so vital to the Postal System that we quote the following: short sermon from the pen of that brilliant writer, Dr. Frank Crane, who has given us his special permission to use the same:

STOP THIS WASTE

By Dr. Frank Crane

The other day the postmaster at Chicago had placards put on the motor vehicles operating in the Postal Service reading as follows:

STOP THIS WASTE!

25,000,000 Pieces of Mail Annually Are Delayed or Not Delivered at All Because They are Incorrectly Addressed or Improperly Packed.

The postal authorities call our attention to the fact that there are 25,000,000 pieces of mail that they must handle three to seven times oftener than they would have to handle them if they had been properly prepared.

And even after they have exhausted every means of identification and salvage they succeed in delivering only slightly more than one-fifth of that amount.

And this does not include vast quantities of circulars and newspapers which are not properly addressed and which are destroyed because they can not be delivered.

In Chicago there is one building that is used as a storage place for mail of obvious value, and for mail of first class which can not be delivered. Twice a year the contents are auctioned off, because there is no way of finding the owners. In this building are bins of shoes, quantities of clothing, dress goods, automobile parts and tires, sporting goods, suit cases—everything from a bird cage to a mouse trap. These are lost to both the one who sent them and the one who should receive them because somebody was careless in tying a knot, or used flimsy wrapping paper, or put on a defective address.

Nearly 300 employees are engaged in correcting the common, preventable errors of the people. The only reason the post office can stand this drain of carelessness upon its resources is that the people pay the bill.

There ought to be a general campaign of education with the object of impressing upon the people the importance of properly preparing and addressing anything they put into the mail box.

Another waste, caused by sheer thoughtlessness, arises from the custom of many business houses holding their mail until the close of the business day, when they release it to the postoffice in a perfect deluge. All day, canceling machines, distributing cases and the other facilities for handling mail lie practically idle, and just after 5 p. m. they are taxed beyond their capacity. If people would simply change their mailing habits to the extent of depositing their mail even two hours earlier than they do at present, it would revolutionize the Postal Service.

This article is written in the hope that many people will adopt the idea of paying better attention to their mail matter.

After all, the post office is the great public servant, and it behooves every citizen of the country to make that servant as efficient as possible.

Much of the criticism leveled at the post office is due to the carelessness of the general public.

LINER CARRIES MOST VALUABLE CARGO WHEN FIVE PRETTY BRIDES-TO-BE SAIL

The Pacific mail liner "President Taft" carried her most precious cargo recently when she left San Francisco with five pretty brides-to-be on board. All five were on their way to the Orient to marry. Just who the five lucky men are who will be waiting for the liner when she docks they didn't divulge, but the girls are Edna Lee Hind, Marjorie Snow Hopkins, Pauline Biggs, Margaret Meyers and Clarita Nunan.

National Survey Shows Extensive Mineral Resource

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Work of the Geological Survey during the last year in examining government lands has resulted in leaving now classified and reserved 65,600,000 acres of coal lands; 6,500,000 acres of petroleum lands; 4,100,000 acres of oil shale; and 2,700,000 acres containing phosphates suitable for fertilizer manufacture. This summary of activities was given in the Survey's annual report, made public today.

Dealing with the mineral resources contained in the government's own land holdings is but one branch of the scientific investigation work performed by the survey, and its engineers and calculators also have turned out topographic maps covering 13,544 square miles of the country's surface, showing exact contours of the land, and stream flow investigations which entailed 11,000 measurements in rivers in 31 states.

It likewise completed studies of the radium bearing ore deposits in Utah, and measured underground water flows in Nevada sufficiently to designate 362,000 acres of land as suitable for utilization in reclamation enterprise.

NEW GOVERNOR NAMED TO RULE CONSTANTINOPLE

Gallib Pasha.

The appointment of Gallib Pasha to succeed Refet Pasha as governor of Constantinople is expected to smooth out many wrinkles now corrugating the brows of allied statesmen. The new military governor is well thought of by the allies and it is believed that he will aid in the settlement of the near east problems.

FINANCIAL CHAOS SEEN IN BREAKS

Financial Expert Predicts Ruination of Monetary System of Land.

(By the Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 29.—"If France breaks with Germany financial chaos will follow, and the mark will drop to almost any conceivable low rate," said Professor Gustav Cassel, Swedish expert in international finance, and advisor to the League of Nations, upon his recent return from Berlin where he had been called by the German government, together with seven other financial experts from the United States, England, Holland and Russia.

Professor Cassel declares that unless present conditions in Europe are altered, stabilization of the German mark will be impossible. The experts were agreed on this. They recommended that the German government ask for a moratorium of reparations payments for at least two years. If this request is granted, stabilization will depend principally on Germany's production and on the make-up of the national budget. An international loan to Germany would not in itself solve the problem, he says, but would have a tremendous moral effect on the people.

The commission of financial experts recommended, according to Professor Cassel, that in case the moratorium were granted, Germany give the following guarantees: the establishment of a "central foreign exchange department" at the Riksbank, to be provided with some of the Riksbank's gold reserve; the expenditure of this gold in the purchase of paper marks; the limitation of the floating debts, and the raising of the discount rate at the Riksbank. With the consent of the reparations commission, an international financial association should be invited to help in the work of stabilization. The redeeming of paper marks should be limited to notes of the Riksbank, chiefly foreign holdings. If marks were priced at the rate of 3,500 to the United States dollar, says Professor Cassel, less than half of the gold reserve of the Riksbank would be sufficient for redemption.

Professor Cassel has recently agreed to act as financial adviser to the Soviet State Bank in Petrograd.

Wanamaker Answers Final Call to Rest

cheaper to manufacture some classes of goods than to buy from manufacturers and to become one of the first retailers to do this. He found it difficult to get employees who were properly instructed in their duties and he organized training schools where his workers were taught the "Wanamaker system."

Mr. Wanamaker interested himself in many civic activities. He was the first salaried secretary in America on the Young Men's Christian Association, in 1858; one of the founders of the Christian Commission during the Civil war, and one of the organizers of the Centennial Exposition in 1876. In the latter year he began the development of his department store, establishing the house of John Wanamaker & Company on Chestnut St., Philadelphia, and twenty years later established a similar business in New York as successor of A. T. Stewart. It is estimated that during his entire business career Mr. Wanamaker had distributed into American homes merchandise reaching nearly a billion dollars in value.

Believed in Advertising

He was known as a great believer in advertising. In newspaper advertising above all other varieties, he spent millions of dollars in it. One of the features of his advertising campaigns was his development of the "Store News Page," which he led with an editorial over his own signature, invariably written by himself, to keep the public in touch with the policies of the business. His friends often saw him writing such an editorial on his way to the store in the morning, scribbling it on the back of an envelope or any odd scrap of paper he had in his pocket.

He was always looking for better and newer ways of doing business, and aside from providing conveniences for buyers and securing adequate management, Mr. Wanamaker paid great attention to the welfare of his employees, establishing among them many institutions for cultivating a spirit of comradeship, educating them to improve their earning capacity, providing retirement of old employees on retired pay, and creating a court of appeal chosen by employees to which any complaints could be taken.

One of the greatest tributes ever paid to an American merchant was that given to Mr. Wanamaker in the fall of 1911 on the fiftieth anniversary of his business career. Thirteen thousand of his employees from both the New York and Philadelphia stores greeted him in his Philadelphia store and presented him with the house in which he was born, and a jubilee book in which each of the thirteen thousand had written their names. A similar tribute was paid at that time in New York where a committee representing the merchants of the United States, including 130 of his business associates and competitors met to do him honor at a luncheon. He was presented with a handsome silver loving cup and heard his rivals laud him as a merchant prince of the country.

Prominent in Political Life

In political life Mr. Wanamaker was prominent as an independent Republican. In 1882 he was offered the Republican nomination as congressman-at-large for the state of Pennsylvania, but declined it, and in 1886 he declined to be an independent candidate for mayor of Philadelphia. He took an active part in most of the presidential campaigns and gave a great amount of work to the Republican National Executive Committee, of which he was a member during the Harrison campaign. Upon the election of Harrison, Mr. Wanamaker was invited to enter the cabinet, and although there was much criticism to the effect that a merchant was unfit for a cabinet position, Mr. Wanamaker became postmaster general and was acknowledged later by his critics to have worked many desirable reforms in the postal system. Organization, system, methods and business mechanism so essential in the postoffice department were all in Mr. Wanamaker's line. He spread the fast mail service and opened sea postoffices in which foreign mails are distributed and made up on the sea, and, among other things, advocated the parcel post and postal savings which were later realized, and also urged government ownership of telegraph lines.

The religious side of Mr. Wanamaker's life was one less known to the general public than any other, but one in which he was deeply interested. Very early in life he became a member of the Rev. John Chambers' Presbyterian church in Philadelphia, and it is related that when Dr. Chambers appealed to his congregation for the church suitable to its needs, Mr. Wanamaker, then a boy, shouted enthusiastically: "I'll get a load of bricks from my father's brick yard." Later he gathered together a handful of boys in a shoemaker's shop and formed a Sunday school, which was the nucleus of what is today the Bethany Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. The Bethany Sunday school, of which Mr. Wanamaker was superintendent, has 6,000 members, and is said to be the largest Sunday school in the United States. Mr. Wanamaker took particular pride in this school as well as the brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, which he also founded, and it is known that he carried about with him constantly an alphabetical index of the members of the school and brotherhood, and that, when time permitted, he studied this list to acquaint himself individually with all the members. His attendance at the Sunday school meetings kept him on his feet almost continuously for eight hours every Sunday, for he often conducted as many as twelve meetings and made short addresses or short-time talks at all of them. Such was his Sunday work the year round for over half a century.

Benevolent Worker

Early in his career Mr. Wanamaker married Mary B. Brown who cooperated with him in much of his philanthropic work. He founded the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia, the First Penny Savings Bank there, assisted in erecting many Young Men's Christian Association buildings, and contributed toward college missionary institutions in India, China and Japan. At the outbreak of the European war he was one of the first to assist in the relief of the Belgians, equipping two shiploads of foodstuffs which were sent to the invaded country.

Mr. Wanamaker governed his life by many maxims. "Every undertaking," he once said, "is made up of the sum of past endeavors, plus ambition and the new visions."

"Business must rest upon the uncrumbling foundation of confidence in one another."

"On every road there is some young man coming on."

"Keep up the old standards, and day by day raise them higher."

As to his own life he once said: "Thinking, trying, toiling and trusting all of my biography."

Lisp Cost Stage Star Position; Sues Dentist

Clara Mackin.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—A lisp from the lips of a baby is cute, but a lisp from the lips of a stage star is tragic.

At least that is the contention of Clara Mackin, erstwhile star of Leo Ditrichstein's "A Matinee Hero."

And what's more, it's tragic for $20,000 worth.

This interesting information—and more—is contained in the complaint of Miss Mackin's suit against Dr. Eugene Vigneron, local dentist, for $20,000.

The stage star charges that the carelessness of the dentist ruined her stage career.

Miss Mackin, modestly admits that there was a time when the beauty of her voice captivated her audiences. That was when she was with "A Matinee Hero" and before Dr. Vigneron tossed dental instruments about her tongue with alleged abandon, reckless, more or less.

She declares that an aching tooth was the remote cause of her present misfortune and Dr. Vigneron, the direct cause.

It all came about when she went to Dr. Vigneron to have the aching tooth treated, she charges. While he was operating on the tooth, she alleges a lancet, or forceps, or some other pointed instrument, pierced her tongue so that now she speaks with a decided lisp, and in consequence has lost her place with the Ditrichstein productions.

The complaint also charges that Miss Mackin spent years abroad studying to develop the voice to its fullest powers and that the vocal injury has nullified her efforts.

Her charges are verified to a certain extent by Ditrichstein who, in an affidavit, deposes and says that he was forced to dispense with the services of Miss Mackin because of the sudden impediment in her speech.

Dr. Vigneron denies that he is in any way responsible for any impediment Miss Mackin may have in her speech.

A correct version of feminine appeal is said to have been spilled over the coco cola glasses at a popular establishment here during the quietness of a Sunday afternoon. Dame Rumor would have that a girl bearing the toll-tale name of Jerry, gave outlet to her pent-up emotions through the most appealing source known to man—tears. Whether this sista hour pastime was due to surrounding conditions or social light disappointment is not known.

The exodus of Sunday evening affection is said to be the cause of disrupting in the peace and tranquility of a certain local fireside. Social pilgrimages to Stratford are said to caused the break.

The latest in Rodolph Valentino nerve is said to have been consumed in the frantic attempts of two local adherents, Bob and Preach in their frantic efforts to locate a soft sofa a, warm fireside and a feminine appeal via the Allen telephone booth.

LOST TO REASON—One cur, sometime, somewhere. Finder use no discretion in returning. "Tee Hee."

Several members of the fairer sex have been waging an endurance contest in a popular establishment. One girl claiming honors is said to have consumed 13 rounds of coco cola (different accompaniment), three cheese sandwiches, four hot chocolates and two bottles of ginger ale, concluding in the end that she would hurry home in order not to miss anything during the evening session.

Members of the local man, who entertained at Konawa recently, have been having trouble in keeping their instruments free from chair-car debris. Another mournful tale is added to the soda pop escapade, when an aged cupid was emptied in a bass horn, suffering under Doc's laborious efforts at music.

NOTICE:

There will be a call meeting of the Pontotoc county Poultry Association Thursday, December 14, at 7:30 p. m. Important business to transact. All members urged to be present.

ADA MERCHANTS AID POULTRY SHOW

Local Business men Pledge Fund to Assist in Show's Success.

The merchants of Ada will assist the poultry raisers of the county in holding their annual poultry show here the last of this month, according to a decision this morning.

Those present agreed to donate from $2.00 to $5.00 each to be used as premiums for the different breeds. Other merchants were to be seen today and given an opportunity to help the cause along.

The Pontotoc County Poultry Association gets $250 a year from the county and the other expenses necessary are raised by free-will offerings. The business men of the city have always assisted along this line and indications are that they will do more this year than in the past.

The record of the local breeders in grabbing off many of the highest honors at the state show at Cushing pleased the citizens here interested in chicken and turkey breeding. The winnings there indicate, it is pointed out, that this county has as good stock as can be obtained at any place, and interest now needs to be gained in getting more farmers as well as those living in the towns to grow birds.

Lute Douce, one of the most successful breeders, says that the poultry interest now is only a few steps behind the dairy interest, and indications are it will overtake dairying before many years.

league. The rate applies to all points in Oklahoma, southern Kansas, eastern Arkansas and northern Texas.

Rhodes also announced that "inaugural clubs" are being formed at a number of counties. The clubs, he said, are similar to the various candidate clubs organized during the primary campaign.

Rhodes said some of the clubs are planning to send as many as 1500 persons to the inaugural celebration.

NEW DIRECTORS FOR ADA C. OF C.

Seven Members Selected in General Election to Take Office.

Seven new members of the board of directors of the Ada Chamber of Commerce have been notified of their election following the close of the polls last evening and counting of ballots by the committee of three.

New members as announced today by Ralph Waner, secretary follows: M. C. Taylor, W. E. Harvey, T. B. Blake, W. J. Coffman, Charles A. Zorn, M. C. Wilson and Ed Granger. The men will automatically take up the duties of their new offices on December 15, the date the outgoing members cease to function as directors.

The first meeting of the board of directors numbering fourteen, will be held on December 19, Waner said. At this time the president, vice-president, secretary and other officers for the board will be elected.

The election of the seven men named as new directors followed the primary and general election, with every member of the Ada Chamber of Commerce voting. Fourteen names were selected for the directors to succeed those, whose term expires December 15.

Th committee which counted ballots, composed of Roy Givens, chairman, J. C. Deavers and M. F. Manville, submitted an official statement to Mr. Waner this morning, announcing the names of those elected.
